

NADAV REMEZ

Hailing from the outskirts of Tel Aviv, guitarist Nadav Remez is one of today's emerging voices on the New York Jazz scene. Described as "an unassuming artist with a penchant for indie rock... forging a style built on understatement, logic and clarity," Remez has established himself as a standout among a new crop of Israelis making waves in the jazz world, through his haunting guitar melodies and compositions that offer an intriguing combination of modern jazz, Jewish folk, and alternative rock.
